Cheers of Crowd Around The Herald Bulletin Board Are Heard Many Blocks.

(By C. A. Brann)
BOSTON WINS! As this news was flashed to the fans Wednesday in Pioneer plaza by megaphone from the balcony of The Herald building, pandemonium broke loose. Men who had watched and waited for the final score tossed their hats into the air and shouted themselves hoarse with joy.

But a few minutes before they had been New York fans, many of them, but now they were Boston. They cared not for any special town, they cared not if they won or lost their money—they admired the fighting spirit of the Bostonians which had carried them on to victory when all seemed lost.

Cheers Heard Blocks Away.
It was a tribute of the American fan to the fairest of the square sport that is known the world round. The excitement had been intense and the men had to elude vent to their enthusiasm. Such a cheer has not been heard for many a day in El Paso, and it was declared by customs officers that they had heard it at the Santa Fe bridge.

As the battle waged, with first New York leading, there was not much shouting. Then came the announcement that Boston had tied the score. Boston and New York fans alike shouted and made merry. The game had become interesting.

Crowd Wild in the Tenth.
It was the tenth inning. Anxiously the crowd waited with ears open to catch every sound of the voice of the speaker as he announced the plays, one by one, through a megaphone. "NEW YORK SCORES ONE!" he shouted on a flash. "Yell after yell" from the air. Small boys threw one another's caps about, patted each other on the backs. Smiles came to the faces of some, while others frowned.

Then came the last half of the 10th. The news was coming too fast to announce how the plays were made, but the flash was given and then the shouts broke loose. The crowd was one of Boston fans.

New Yorkers paid the money they had lost. They did not care who won, the series was over for another year, the tension of eight days of anxiety was relaxed and men might now have time to attend to their business.

Record Breaking Crowd.
It was the largest crowd that has ever gathered in Pioneer plaza to hear baseball returns. It was larger by far than any audience previously gathered there to hear any returns during the day and it was an enthusiastic throng.

Time and again, when it was mentioned that New York fans had rooted for "Black Sox" or any other player and Boston fans had done the same, a shout of sympathy went up from the El Paso crowd who saw and played the game, play by play, 2000 miles away from the city where the 15 men on the diamond were playing it. They lived each play on the field grounds. No thought, no time had they for business cares nor anything else, save only baseball, on which it seemed the life of the nation depended.

What cared they if there is a political campaign on? What cared they if Roosevelt were lying in a Chicago hospital with a bullet wound in his body? What did they care if the rebels marched into Juarez at 1 o'clock or 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon? Not one of them. Their hearts, their minds were centered on the world's championship game of baseball, of which they were hearing the news.

WANT STAHL TO PLAY FOOTBALL AGAIN

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 17.—Jake Stahl, manager of the Bagdon world's champions, may don football clothes in a few days if he listens to an appeal from the University of Illinois, where 10 years ago he was captain of the eleven. Stahl has returned every year since to assist in whipping the team into shape for the home coming game, and it is hoped that he can do so this year. The game will be played on November 19 with Chicago.

WOLFE AND MALONEY FIGHT SIX ROUNDS TO DRAW

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 17.—Ad Wolf, lightweight champion and Teddy Maloney, of this city, fought to a draw in a six round bout here last night. Maloney was nervous during the first two rounds, but made a good showing in the latter part of the fight.

BOY BILLIARDIST WINS

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 17.—Weiker Cochran, the 13 year old billiard player from Manson, Iowa, scored his fourth consecutive victory last night in the class A, 18.2 tournament here, defeating Kent, 175 to 91. Cochran averaged 9.12 a hit with a cue and had high run of 27.

ARMY TEAM FOR JUBILEE TOURNEY BEING FORMED

An army baseball team representative of all of the branches of the service stationed in El Paso is to be the military's entry in the Os-Apie Jubilee baseball tournament. The team itself has not been selected and will not be for several days yet. Lieut. Max Garber, of the 22d infantry, will select the team and at the present time has the men trying for places on the nine doing daily workout at the post.

The team could be made stronger if it was permitted for the team to play professionals, as there are ball players at the fort who are in the pro class. Lieut. Heavers, of the Second cavalry, is one of these. He has been signed by the New York Highlanders to play the coming season and for this reason he will not be allowed to play on the team. Lieut. Garber is holding strictly to the amateur conditions, which is to feature the baseball tournament. Likewise in the commands at Fort Bliss there are many minor league players, but none of these will be able to get on the team.

The final selection of the nine men who will make up the army baseball team will not be made until just before the opening of the baseball tournament. At present the squad has been cut down to about 25 men, who will be given a chance to practice at the post every day until the final selections are made. The men who are out are:

Catchers, Adams and Grady of the 22d infantry, and Williams of the 12th cavalry.
Pitchers, Oppett, Creekbaum, Kay and Scamernhorn of the 22d infantry, Fisher of the Second cavalry and Say of the 13th cavalry.

Infielders, Cook, Scanlon and Kemp of the 11th infantry; Gura and Fisher of the 2d infantry; McGowan of the Third cavalry.
Outfielders, Eliot, Terrell, Pokrant, Lamb and Erickson of the 22d infantry; Janney and Steffen of the 13th cavalry.

A Little Sport; A Little Gossip
NINETY thousand simoleans are to be divided among the Boston players who participated in the world's series. The New Yorkers will get enough to buy their meal tickets during the winter layoff.

New York has the boxing fever strong and several good bouts are scheduled for that little burr during the next few weeks.

Prof. George Elliott Howard, of Nebraska university, has the baseball bug bad. He wants to cut out all other intercollegiate athletics and have the men devote their time to knocking the pill about the lot. Nothing doing Prof.

And now sir Arthur Conan Doyle has quit writing about Sherlock Holmes, long enough to declare himself "ferocious" boxing bouts at the Olympic games. And sir Arthur is a lover of the marquis of Queensberry sport at that.

Efforts are being made by the Paris fight promoters to stage a 20 round contest between Joe Jeannette and Sam Langford in that city in the near future. Jeannette is willing to go on, but Langford has not been heard from.

Secret practice has been ordered for the university of Iowa by coach Hawley, preparatory to the game with the university of Chicago.

Hugh Ross and Charley Lawrence have been matched for an eight round bout at Chattanooga, Tenn., on Oct. 22.

The Princeton university football eleven are facing a stiff trio in the next two weeks in Syracuse, Dartmouth and Harvard. The games already played have not been a thorough test for the team and there is still

TO DRIVE A NAIL

You must not only hit squarely on the head once but you must also keep hammering until it goes right. It's the persistent "follow-up" that counts. Spasmodic effort in any line of activity achieves little result; you can't save much money unless you go about it systematically. Start with a dollar and a square jawed resolve to put away a certain percentage of your earnings each week or month, and you will soon have a good-sized nest egg for any emergency. We pay you 4 percent interest, compounded twice a year. Come in and get acquainted.
